A piece of Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue in orbit around the Earth!

At the heart of space innovation, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue welcomed Prime Ministers Justin Trudeau and François Legault in September, who joined our mayor, Paola Hawa, to announce an innovative agreement with Telesat Canada.

The agreement is aimed at developing Lightspeed, one of the world's most advanced satellite networks. The expansion of the facilities and the creation of 500 new high-tech jobs will have a direct impact on the quality of life of local families and the vitality of the local economy. Thanks to its advantageous position on the island of Montreal, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue, already renowned for its natural beauty, rich heritage and dynamism, is a place where the future is built every day.

Square Bellevue: the future of housing for the 55+ age group

On October 3, in the presence of Mayor Paola Hawa, members of the municipal council and various stakeholders, the groundbreaking ceremony marked the beginning of a project that is redefining the way seniors live in Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue.

Welcome to Square Bellevue: an innovative seniors' village, geared to those 55 and over, comprising over 825 modern residential units, strategically located close to transportation and Sainte-Anne's Hospital. The project embodies a new way of thinking about urban planning, integrating green spaces, landscaped parks and eco-conscious architecture, according to the "Age in Place" principles. A connected, vibrant and sustainable neighborhood where living has never been so inspiring!

Multifunctional path and bridge: facilitating active travel

Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue, in collaboration with the Communauté métropolitaine de Montréal (CMM) and the Agglomération de Montréal, is taking its commitment to promoting active travel, accessible to all, a step further.

A magnificent bridge overlooking protected wetlands has been added to the multifunctional trail linking chemin de l'Anse-à-l'Orme to rue Daoust. Previously inaccessible in spring, it now offers permanent access to walkers, joggers and cyclists. A great way to discover nature in Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue!

Playgrounds and green spaces: Sainte-Anne reinvents its outdoor spaces

Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue's parks are getting a makeover! With an investment of $2.5 million, Aumais and Robillard parks are becoming places where people can play, relax and recharge their batteries.

Residents can already enjoy the green space facilities in Robillard Park, and we look forward to seeing you in spring 2025 to discover the new play areas, including refreshing water features, in Aumais Park!

Riverbank stabilization: Protect today, build tomorrow!

Hit by the floods of 2017 and 2019, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue is investing $13.4 million to redevelop part of the Promenade, renaturalize and secure the riverbanks and protect the community

Benefiting from a $9.6 million grant from the PRAFI program, Kelso Park and the Promenade are reborn stronger and more resilient than ever in the face of climate change. A city that protects its citizens - this is where it happens!

Pavillon Lalonde: a window on the water, a place to gather

A brand-new pavilion is coming to Lalonde Park in summer 2025! With redesigned access to the water for residents and modern multifunctional facilities, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue will offer a relaxing and refreshing place to reconnect with Lac Saint-Louis. Sainte-Anne is changing, and getting more beautiful all the time!

Urban planning: Sainte-Anne rises to tomorrow's challenges

In 2023, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue embarked on a bold transformation: the complete revision of its urban plan and its zoning and subdivision bylaws.

The current plan, in place since 2004, needed updating to meet modern challenges, particularly those related to the fight against climate change. On October 2, 2024, a public consultation offered residents the opportunity to discover this visionary new plan, designed to build a more resilient, sustainable and innovative city.

Public Consultation Summary

Heavy rains: The city ready to innovate and adapt to climate change

Faced with extreme weather conditions on August 9, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue saw its municipal infrastructures put to the test.

Aware of the growing challenges posed by climate change, the city is taking action.

City employees are analyzing the causes of the damage, and proactive measures will be implemented to reinforce infrastructures and protect residents from future bad weather. To find out how to protect your home from heavy rain, consult our brochure on the subject.

A new stage on the Promenade for a lively cultural scene!

In the spring of 2024, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue inaugurated a brand-new, modern stage for its Promenade, replacing the old structure that dated back to the 1990s. The new covered, illuminated, more spacious and better adapted stage opens the door to a greater variety of shows, while offering a redesigned setting for artists. The cultural heart of our city beats stronger than ever!

Quality road infrastructure for a dynamic city

During the summer and fall of 2024, major rehabilitation work was carried out on rue Daoust and boulevard Industriel. These improvements are part of the city council's commitment to ensuring the quality of the road infrastructure and its industrial park. With an investment of one million dollars, these works aim to maintain a solid and safe road network, facilitating access to businesses and adapted to the needs of the community.

Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue takes the lead for a greener future!

Protecting the planet, one step at a time, is easy and saves money. Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue is breaking new ground for the environment and aims to meet the ecological objectives of the Greater Montréal area.

Adopting good composting habits not only helps protect the environment, it also limits the financial impact on residents. By working together, residents and merchants, our efforts are already producing results. Let's stay the course towards a green future for generations to come! Discover our short capsules on composting and be part of the change.

The Remembrance Parade returns: honour our history, celebrate our heroes!

After an eight-year absence, the Remembrance Parade made its grand return to Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue on November 3, 2024

This event, a symbol of recognition and respect, bears witness to Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue's deep ties with its veterans. The parade is a unique opportunity to honour their courage and sacrifice, in a moment of gratitude and solidarity. The last edition of this event took place when ownership of Ste. Anne's Hospital was transferred from the federal government to the Gouvernement du Québec, in 2016.

Pickleball at Crevier Park: the trendy sport that gets our city moving

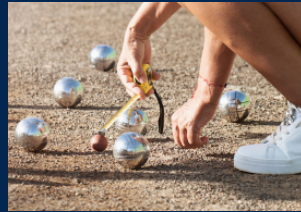

Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue residents love pickleball, and so do we! In response to the growing popularity of this sport among residents, the city has set up four pickleball courts in Crevier Park.

One tennis court has been preserved, while the other has been transformed into 4 modern, accessible pickleball courts. And that's just for starters! In 2025, 3 new pickleball courts will be built in Aumais Park, reinforcing the city's commitment to providing sports facilities that bring our community together and energize it.
